EVER GREEN

FROM SASSY TO SUBLIME, THESE SPACES PULLED FROM OUR ARCHIVES PROVE THAT GREEN IS FOREVER IN STYLE.

1. In Park City, a pivoting chartreuse door brightens the entry of a modern mountain home in Park City. Design by Sparano + Mooney Architecture.
2. Designer Jason Wilde chose Benjamin Moore's "Sweet Daphne" to paint the ceiling of a Heber home's family room to "make the space feel more whimsical and cozy." A green honeycomb-patterned rug adds to the room's charm.
3. Trimmed in white, this lime-colored pavilion creates a chic outdoor living space behind a Federal Heights home in Salt Lake City. Design by Gregg Hodson.
4. In Orem, a verdigris chandelier lights a traditional dining room freshly dressed in layers of uplifting spring greens.
5. Pots to pillows, furniture to topiaries, varied shades of green enliven an elaborately trellised living area outside a Salt Lake home. Design by Michele Dunker.
6. In a Salt Lake City residence, a passageway painted Sherwin-Williams "Pickle" leads guests into a kitchen dressed in a citrusy green. Design by Susan Taggart and Warren Lloyd.
